WHAT'S NEXT: THE NEW LUXURY WORLD (DIS)ORDER

This November, Vanessa Friedman and The New York Times will bring together top C.E.O.s, policy makers, entrepreneurs, celebrities and thought leaders at the International Luxury Conference in Hong Kong.

In these tumultuous times of rapid political and economic change, luxury decision-makers are facing challenges that continue to transform their industry — from technological evolution to a dramatic shift in the retail world to what's next for China, India and the West.

Through provocative interviews with powerful and influential figures, Friedman and her colleagues will explore how luxury companies can win in a world where the only constant is change, and the biggest risk is taking no risk at all.
